Family Support Network

Rep. Bruce Smith said that the Pennsylvania American Legion has established a Family Support Network, to help families of servicemen and servicewomen who are part of Operation Desert Shield.

Family members facing difficulties should call the American Legion Network at 1-800-786-0901. When the nature of the problem is determined, the legislature or auxiliary member will be contacted to provide the service requested.

According to Edward T. Houk, Pennsylvania Department adjutant for the American Legion, the services include: family financial assistance if children are in need; baby sitters; weatherization projects such as storm window installation, snow shoveling, and minor auto and household repairs.

Smith urged citizens to call the toll-free number if they know of a family which could use the Family Support Network.

The York County legislator also urged area residents to write to personnel serving in the Persian Gulf.

He said that these men and women are anxious to receive news from home but many of them do not receive mail on a regular basis from the United States.

Residents wishing to write to these men and women may do so by sending letters to Army Service Member, Operation Desert Shield, APO, N.Y. 09848-0006 (Army and Air Force personnel).

To write to Navy and Marine personnel, address letters to: Army Service Member, Operation Desert Shield, FPO, N.Y. 09866-0006.

Bob Stuckey joins WITF

WITF, Inc. announced today that Bob Stuckey will join the staff of THE PEOPLE'S BUSINESS, Pennsylvania's only statewide newsmagazine program produced for the Pennsylvania Public Television Network by WITF.

Stuckey, who previously resided in Charlotte, North Carolina, will assume the post of reporter/producer for the weekly program. Prior to coming to WITF, Stuckey was assigned editor-in-chief position for WCNC-TV in Charlotte. In this capacity, he planned assignments for news crews and reported and wrote television news.

In addition, Stuckey was reporter/night assignment editor/producer for WSPA-TV in Spartanburg, South Carolina and reporter/photographer for WOLO-TV in Columbia, South Carolina.

Stuckey has been recognized for his distinguished work in the broadcast field. While at WOLO, Stuckey was chosen to be part of a select group of panelists for the 1986 South Carolina gubernatorial debates. He was also among fifteen journalists from the Southeast selected to receive a fellowship to study law in the courts.

Stuckey received a BA in broadcast journalism from American University in Washington, DC. He resides in Harrisburg.
